Interests and Achievements

I have many interests many of which are sports related. Netball and rounder's is a sport I took on as more of a hobby as I was a key player five years running in both the netball and rounder's team. Our team was very successful as we won the netball and rounder's league several times in the five years. Also, I use to frequently play badminton as my hobby and stress outlet during exam seasons. During my years in secondary school, I was chosen to take part in many programs like the Brilliant Club. This was a program set for high achievers and we were taken to universities and given weekly lectures by a professor I studied Philosophy and Ethics. My final essay was graded at 2:1 which I was very pleased about. I was also a part of the AK (Attain Knowledge) club for a year, this club was based on female empowerment, and we did weekly debates on topics in the news about females. This improved my confidence and debating skills. For the period of year 10 and 11 I was a peer mentor for year 7 and 8's this allowed me to advice the younger students and help them focus on their education.

Not only do I participate in different things in school I take part to help my community. I do this by attending my local mosque's charity to walk the streets of Birmingham to help the needy.

Also, while I was in college I frequently tutored children from year 3 to year 11. This has allowed me to constantly reinforce my mathematical or English skills.
